

XVI SOLANACEAE CONFERENCE

YIELD & NUTRITION

Cia Xu - Bio

Dr. Xu studies the way that plant cells communicate with each other via small signaling peptides to ensure that plants develop appropriately and function optimally. He is interested in how these communication mechanisms evolved and how they can be altered to improve tomato plants and their resistance to environmental and biological stresses.